Therese A. Rando, Ph.D., BCETS, BCBT

Dr. Rando is a clinical psychologist in Warwick, Rhode Island. She is the Clinical Director of The Institute for the Study and Treatment of Loss, which provides mental health services through psychotherapy, training, supervision, and consultation, and specializes in: loss and grief; traumatic stress; and the psychosocial care of persons with chronic, life-threatening, or terminal illness, and their loved ones. Since 1970, she has consulted, conducted research, provided therapy, written, and lectured internationally in areas related to loss, grief, illness, dying, and trauma. Current professional foci include treatment of complicated mourning, loss of a child, the interface between posttraumatic stress and grief, anticipatory mourning, specialized intervention techniques in the treatment of traumatic bereavement, and the integration of EMDR into intervention with grief and mourning.

Day One

“Therapeutic Interventions in Grief & Mourning: Responding to Uncomplicated and Complicated Bereavement”

Description of Day One

This practically-oriented workshop for clinicians focuses on therapeutic strategies and intervention techniques for facilitating uncomplicated grief and mourning, and responding therapeutically when it becomes complicated.

Days Two & Three

“Enabling Eleven Core Strategies for Self-Help After Sudden, Traumatic Death”

Description of Days Two & Three

The two-day workshop focuses in-depth upon how the sudden, traumatic death of a loved one poses the mourner with challenging demands stemming from the volatile mixture of loss and trauma.

Who Should Attend This 3-Day Training

These workshops are suitable for psychotherapists, mental health counselors, social workers, psychologists, psychiatrists, physicians, nurses, health care providers, funeral directors, clergy, hospice workers and volunteers, bereavement coordinators, Employee Assistance Program clinicians, law enforcement and other first responders' peer support team members, support group facilitators, and anyone in a helping relationship with bereaved persons.
